Market Shaping Toolkit supports smaller care providers and local authorities to engage in market shaping and develop innovative practice to meet local needs. The team were able to effectively highlight and communicate the attendance of our high level political and NHS speakers and raised a significant amount of interest amongst national and top tier healthcare press as well as trade publications, ensuring excellent coverage of the event and the brand.

I have personally seen how market research has been used to do both in the justice system. One barrier is cost. This guidance outlines some of the reasons care providers fail and how councils have responded to the need to help people find new care. Where a provider is in the Market Oversight Scheme and is likely to financially fail and their services cease, CQC will notify local authorities and Government.

Communication channels for health information have changed greatly in recent years. For those eligible for state funding, adult social care and its expenditure is a local authority level responsibility. Unit costs of health and social care set out the average costs of the health and social care workforce.
